

Anytime Learning

Anytime Learning provides online Sage Timberline Office training and skill advancement—whenever you’re ready, and wherever you are.

As a Sage Timberline Office customer, you receive more than software built around quality and integrity. You have our commitment to serve your financial and operations software needs long after the sale.

With online learning, you can maximize the use of your software—and travel budget—by enhancing your employees’ technical skills while they’re at work. Anytime Learning includes a full range of recorded, instructor-led sessions that are easily accessible, affordable, and ready whenever you are. All you need is a computer, and a high speed Internet connection.

Backed by more than 30 years of industry experience and developed by qualified Sage Timberline Office specialists, Anytime Learning subscriptions deliver solid know-how for anyone who’s ever had a need to reinforce skills, acquaint new employees with the basics, or revisit skills they haven’t used in awhile.

Learn anytime, anyplace

With an Anytime Learning subscription, the entire company can view a host of recorded, instructor-led sessions anytime and anyplace where Web access is available—in the office, in the field, from home, or on the road. From your desktop or laptop, an Anytime Learning subscription provides access to a comprehensive selection of topics that will help you and your staff with daily workflow and processes.

Help new-hires, cross-train staff

Face it, turnover is a reality. And how often do you find yourself scrambling to teach the basics to someone who’s new or filling in? With the unlimited access of an Anytime Learning subscription, any number of people can view the sessions as often as they like. With the convenience of Web-based delivery, every employee can take comfort in knowing they have quick and ready access to the expertise that will help them get up to speed fast.

Freshen up forgotten skills

Get the right amount of training, just in time. Anytime Learning courses are ideal for those times when you need to take another look at the concepts you learned from formal training programs or revisit task-specific skills you haven’t used in awhile. Struggling to remember what your consultant said about setting up a vendor? Has it been awhile since you voided a check? Now you can have a convenient and dependable learning tool for just the right information any time.

Complement what’s taught in the classroom

Online learning complements the more in-depth classroom training that is offered by our national network of Authorized Training Centers (ATCs). Classroom instruction equips students with the knowledge and skills needed to grasp the full extent of Sage Timberline Office capabilities and provides opportunities to interact with instructors and other students. Classroom or on-site training is recommended for new customers who are setting up their software for the first time. For a complete listing of participating ATCs, available courses and class locations, visit our Web site at www.sagetimberlineoffice.com.

Find out more about Anytime Learning

Anytime Learning is offered as an annual subscription service. Subscriptions include multiple sessions covering a full range of topics focused on basic processing including Construction Accounting, Project Management, Real Estate, and Year-End Procedures. Session lists are posted on our Web site so you can easily review the content descriptions of sessions included with a specific subscription. Sessions run between 5 and 20 minutes, and you control when you want to play, fast forward, or go back and repeat.
